

Usage Reports for Discus Databases

Instructions for Public Libraries & Colleges

General Information

Additional explanatory notes and definitions are included with the usage reports or appear on the websites noted for each database vendor below.

Account numbers and username/password information needed for accessing usage reports appear in the "NOTES" area of your library's "Discus Institutional Summary." Those who serve as Primary Contacts for their institutions may request a copy of the summary. If the login information recorded on the summary is no longer valid, please contact the appropriate vendor for new login credentials.

Home/remote usage is included in your usage reports only if your institution has made an institution specific remote access arrangement with the database vendors (examples: proxy server, secure referral page).

Home/remote access using the Discus-provided "generic" username and/or password is allocated to a single Discus master account and is not included on usage reports for your institution.
